1. EXT. ROOFTOP OF A SKYSCRAPER. - NIGHT

City of NEO REMROCK, hundreds of skyscrapers jammed next to each other each covered with thousands of glowing billboards that light up the night. The NORTH side of the city is the home of the RICH and the SOUTH side the POOR, but everyone in New Remrock is no more than thirty minutes away from each other.

NOVA, 22, sits on top of a skyscraper on the borderline of the SOUTH, staring at the tallest and biggest building of the city in the CENTRE of the NORTH, the VEGA CORPORATION HEADQUARTERS.

NOVA

Must be nice to be chillin' up

North.

HECTOR, 24, sitting close to Nova.

HECTOR

With all the fancy cars... fancy mechanics...

NOVA

Bullshit! My shop's parts are as good as anything in the North!

HECTOR

Hey no offence, you might run the best shop in the South, but you never know what's up in the North.

NOVA

I do know and I can do anything they can do and more.

And since you mentioned the North, I've been hearing rumors about Vega Corp throwing around big money. You know anything?

HECTOR

Vega Corp is hiring hackers to write code for them. And even if they can't use it, you still get paid.

NOVA

...Doesn't sound real to me. Who'd you hear it from?

HECTOR

I didn't hear it, I did it. I walked in to this place down here, they said they were from Vega and showed me a site they wanted me to hack.

NOVA

...And?

HECTOR

I couldn't do it and I still got a thousand bucks. I was only there for 15 minutes!

NOVA

Jesus are they out of their minds? Why are they throwing money away?

HECTOR

No idea. They run your codes immediately to see if they work or don't and then they pay you.

NOVA

Big corp hiring hackers...must be a reason... .

HECTOR

Maybe, but don't ask me, they treated me like a tool. All I can tell you is they really want to get into this site. Before they kicked me out, they said whoever cracks the codes in any way or form gets a bonus -- five million!!

NOVA

FIVE MILLION!?

HECTOR

Yeah five million!

NOVA

Sucks that I can't code. I work better with mechanics.

HECTOR

Yeah, what's with your mechs anyway? New? They look sick!

NOVA

DUH! Designed by yours truly. First prototype, you wanna see what they do?

Hector nods. Nova stands up and displays glossy black mechanical devices attached to her palms, forearms and calves. The palm pieces has a circular power button and speed controls. The light in the center indicates power status. The forearm piece extends a small wing upon being touched. The calves pieces look identical to a normal sneaker, with an engine boost at the bottom of the "shoes".

HECTOR

What is all this?

NOVA

Human glider tech. The units on my calves boost my jump off somewhere high like this skyscraper, the armpieces fold out to wings, the palm pieces control it all.

HECTOR

You mean you can fly?

NOVA

Glide moron. But it feels like flying, or it will, I haven't fully balanced it all out yet. So far landing and slowing down aren't quite right...

HECTOR

This is so DOPE! But wait, is this even legal?

NOVA

You're a hacker and you're concerned if this shit is legal?

HECTOR

You have a point.

NOVA

You're legal until you're caught!

Nova smiles and winks at Hector. She goes to her backpack and pulls out another set of devices similar to what she is wearing and offers them to Hector who eagerly grabs them and starts to put them on.

HECTOR

Damn! They feel like they just attached to me... like magnets!

NOVA

And they won't come off at high speed. Totally safe, well so far as I've tested them. I'm pretty sure you won't die.

HECTOR

Pretty sure?

NOVA

Well, you might break your arm or leg if you fall but I can always give you a discount on total mech replacements at my shop. Or you can give them back to me...

HECTOR

Screw that, let's fly!

Nova and Hector gives a run before jumping off the roof of the skyscraper. They cheer and scream in joy as they glide in the air.

NOVA

DAMN THIS FEELS GOOD!

HECTOR

HOLY SHIT I'M ACTUALLY FLYING!

NOVA

It's GLIDING Hector! Get your terminology right.

HECTOR

YES MAM!

Nova smiles as she glides in the air, having a birds eye view of the whole city. Dimmer lights on the South and vibrant neon lights on the North. She and Hector glide North, catching thermals from the buildings and going higher and head straight toward the Vega Corporation building. She stares into the blacked out building as she glides across it...before swinging back toward the south and her home.

2. EXT. NOVA'S HOUSE. NIGHT.

They land on the roof of Nova's house in the South side. Hector smiles at Nova.

HECTOR

I loved it.

NOVA
They're yours.

HECTOR

Really?

NOVA
Yeah, I made the second set...for you.

Nova smiles shyly. Hector smirks and leans in closer to Nova.

HECTOR

Thank you, I love everything that you make.

NOVA

Good night, Hector.

HECTOR

Good night Nova.

Hector pulls Nova in for a hug. Nova looks at Hector with her doe eyes. Hector's hand runs through her hair gently.

HECTOR (CONT'D)

I'll see you tomorrow.

Hector winks and jumps off her roof. Nova stays and watches him until his shadow disappears.
